

KELLY FELTON

College Science Professor

I am a well-qualified candidate for Tustin School Board. My two children attend TUSD. I am a college science professor, with two master's degrees in science, and I believe in applying critical reasoning skills for all K-12 students. I will use reason, logic and evidence when approaching any problem within the district.

Parents are the primary educators of their children and should maintain all rights to decide when, where, and how their children will be educated. Sex education should be biology-led, and parents should be able to opt-in, not opt-out for sex ed instruction. I believe in teaching accurate historical events but do not support critical race theory or social justice as educational tools in the K-12 curriculum.

I understand the importance of extracurricular activities for all students and will work tirelessly to keep those programs funded and strong. I will advocate for all students to be prepared for both a working environment, and/or a successful college experience.

I support the US Constitution that bestows upon us personal sovereignty protecting all students, parents and teachers from government overreach and political indoctrination. I will work to build a cohesive school board that focuses on the children.
