

AUTUMN DIGIOVANNI
Businesswoman/Parent

AGE: 46

I was born and raised in Huntington Beach. I graduated from Hawes, Sowers and Edison HS, and my two children are currently being educated in our schools.

I have first-hand experience in the decline of our schools.

After surviving 2 years of school via zoom, I, along with many other parents, learned a lot about our educational system, our teachers and their teaching methods, and the content being taught in the classroom.

Unfortunately, over those two years our concerns as parents have been silenced and ignored.

I have attended almost every HBCSD board meeting over the past year. It was my persistence and determination that demanded the board pass a resolution to send Gov. Newsom a letter advocating against masking healthy children and vaccine mandates in our schools.

I will promote policies that safeguard parents' rights to be heard and respected as partners in the education of their children.

My most important job is being a mother to my two children, but I am also a Real Estate professional. With the money our property values generate and the funds from the state, our schools should mirror affluent private schools.

I will represent the taxpayers and stop frivolous spending and misallocation of funds.

I will be a strong voice for parents, students, and teachers - not the state, staff and unions. I will stand against state mandates that promote ideological, sexuality, or political agendas that confuse and divide our students, conflict with families' values, or interfere with the primary purpose of education: to teach a broad and rigorous, age-appropriate curriculum that provides a path to a successful future in a safe environment for all students.

I would appreciate our vote.
